2. Finding the Biomedical Research Building (BRB)

- From the Physician's Pavilion Parking Lot: Exit the parking garage and walk straight across the roundabout (a few short-term parking spaces are in the middle) to the sidewalk in between Sam Jackson and the Multnomah Pavilion. Follow the sidewalk up the short staircases and turn left. Walk up the ramp to the front entrance and main level of the Biomedical Research Building.
- From Bus Stop: Take the staircase to the left of the entrance to Sam Jackson Hall under the skybridge. Proceed left across the covered crosswalk toward the entrance of Sam Jackson Hall. Turn left up the outdoor cement staircase. Turn right and continue up the stairs. At the top, turn right, toward the circular courtyard. The entrance to the Biomedical Research Building is located on the far side of the courtyard.
- From the Tram: Follow signs to the Kohler Pavilion after exiting the upper tram terminal. At the Kohler Pavilion continue to the main hospital lobby and exit to your right. Cross the covered crosswalk toward the entrance of Sam Jackson Hall. Turn left up the outdoor cement staircase. Turn right and continue up the stairs. At the top, turn right, toward the circular courtyard. The entrance to the Biomedical Research Building is located on the far side of the courtyard.

3. Finding the Advanced Imaging Research Center (AIRC)

The AIRC is on Floor 1, Suite 120. Enter on the main level near the circular courtyard.

After entering the building, walk right and continue to the end of the hallway. Restrooms are located on the left and windows on the right of the hallway. The AIRC is located at the end of the hallway. Use the courtesy phone and directory outside the door to contact faculty and staff.
